A Chara,

At the Quarterly Meeting of An Comdhail, held on Sunday November 1969 in the Ormonde Hotel, Dublin, and with a full attendance of Delegates present, it was decided to call an Extraordinary Convention for Sunday 30th. November 1969 in Juries Hotel, same Dublin, commencing at 11 A.M.

Questions affecting your current and future status as a Teacher and or Adjudicator will be discussed, and far reaching decisions taken as a result of deliberations on this day.

We are consulting legal opinion on the constitutional position of The Commission. and the result of this consultation will be placed before the Convention.

It is hardly necessary for me to emphasise the fact that your presence at this meeting is absolutely essential as you will be required to vote on matters of vital importance.

So, again stressing the urgency of your attendance,

Is mise,

Harry McKeaffrey

Hon-Secretary.
